

Color Test

1. Name the underlying tone for each level.
2. Name the corrective tone for each level.
3. Is color acid or alkaline?
4. Is developer acid or alkaline?
5. Name the % of peroxide in 10,20,30 & 40 vol.
6. Name the primary colors
7. Name the secondary colors
8. Name the tertiary colors
9. What is the ph of lightener?

10. What is the pH of the scalp?

11. Is lightener acid or alkaline?

Scenarios

1. You have a guest come in with shoulder length hair, that she has been dyeing her hair black herself for 2 years. She has two inches of new growth which is level 6. She wants to be a level six with caramel color highlights, what do you do and what are your formulas?
2. You have a guest come in that has level 8 hair, she has two peek a boos of pink manic panic. She has colored them twice for 30 minutes each time, she wants them gone and to blend with her natural. What do you do and what are your formulas?
3. You have a guest come in that has salt and pepper hair, she wants highlights and lo lites to help blend her gray. What are you formulas?
4. You have a client come in that has 100% white hair, she wants to be a level 7 Copper red, she has a typical short hair cut. What do you do and what are you formulas?
5. You have a client come in that has medium texture hair to her bra strap, she has an inch of level 5 new growth, her mid shaft is a level 7, and her ends are a level 8. She has been using sun in, she wants to be a level 7 with platinum highlights. What are your formulas and what do you use?

6. You have a guest come in who has virgin level 6 hair to the middle of her back, she wants a soft look with some honey and caramel highlights. What do you do and what are your formulas?
7. You have a guest come in that colored her salt and pepper hair herself. She was going for a deep wine color, but now has hot roots, her mid shaft is a level 6, her ends are a 5. Her hair is to her mid back, she wants it all to blend and not have hot roots, what do you do and what are your formulas?
8. You have a client come in that has hair down to her bra strap, she has had her hair colored level 6 rr, professionally for two years, she wants to go to a level 7 honey blonde with some low lite of her natural level 5 hair, what do you do and what are your formulas?
9. You have a guest come in that is platinum blonde, she wants to go back to her natural color, which is a level 6. Her hair is to her shoulders with light layers. What do you do and what are your formulas?
10. You have a client come in that had been coloring her hair a level 7, she wants to go back to her natural white hair. Her hair is in a stacked bob, what do you do and what are your formulas?